

Memories of Us
By Leah Feigenbaum

You were my soulmate,
my partner in crime.
We shared so many memories that I will never forget.

Between our first encounter and our last time together,
we made so many memories
that I'll never forget.
And whenever I think of you,
the memories fill me up with joy and happiness.
That lights me up,
from the sad lonely frown.

I remember when we were little kids.
Our little small feet
bouncing up and down.
Excited to learn
to ride our bikes.
We kept on tripping and falling.
But our love of riding the bikes helped us never give up.

There was this time I remember
When you had a birthday party
You invited everyone
Even the sassy girls
But on the day of the party
No one came, except for me
You burst into tears
Cascades of water fell down your cheeks
But I was here
I comforted you
And a smile broke out
So you and I together
Played and played and had fun.
Just the two of us

And we'll do those events again
In our memories and dreams.
Together, you and me.
Together again.
In our memories.

When you were first gone
my mind went blank.
I couldn't do anything,
without my best friend.

But I remembered what you told me before you left.
"No matter what happens to me
I will always be with you in your heart.
In the memories that you will recall that you will never forget."

I will never forget you
and the memories we made.
I will never forget you
and the memories we made.
